City's Sinking Funds Are Up to Requirements for First Time in Many Years

Mayor's Statement Shows Satisfactory Civic Improvement

Mr. Herbert Anscomb Says Collection of Current Taxes Reaches 91 Per Cent, and Building Construction Figures Are Nearly $4,000,000. New Total for Past Ten Years

Steady Demand for City-Owned Property Continues

ALL the city's sinking funds are up to requirements for the first time in many years, collections of current taxes amount to approximately 91 per cent, being the highest percentage of collections for many years, building construction reached nearly $4,000,000, which is in advance of anything for the last ten years, and there is a steady and continuing demand for properties owned by the city, with good prices being obtained for most of the properties sold.

These encouraging conditions are revealed in a brief report by His Worship Mayor Anscomb on the work of the principal branches of civic affairs for the past twelve months, which he laid before the City Council at its final meeting for 1929 yesterday.

Mayor Anscomb noted that the general improvement in conditions throughout Victoria and district were reflected in the increased use made of the library and its facilities, registrations and circulation being substantially increased. He congratulated Chief Fry and the staff of the police department upon their excellent work, and said the fire department continued to function in its usual efficient manner. He thanked the council for the loyal support given him during the year, and for the harmonious way in which the business of the city has been carried on, and the civic department heads and employees for their assistance and co-operation.

"May the coming year see a continuance of the friendly spirit existing among all responsible for the administration of civic affairs, and be filled with abundant happiness for all our citizens," is the wish of His Worship.

Copies of the Mayor's report were ordered distributed to all members of the City Council.

Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Secretary of State Stimson, of the United States. Centre is the gates to the conference: Secretary of the Navy Adams, Hugh Gibson, Ambassador Charles Dawes, Ambassador Dwight Morrow and Senator Robinson.

British "White Paper" Is Cause of Much Talk Among Statesmen of Two Nations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Secretary Stimson, in a statement today, said the "British White Paper," an interpretation of obligations created by the League of Nations, does not state that there could be no neutrals in any future war. He said that the paper in question contains nothing contrary to the United States position as a signatory of the Kellogg-Briand Pact.

Mr. Stimson said that the assertion had been credited to the "White Paper" that in any future war there could be no neutrals and that it had apparently "been assumed here that this assertion had been made by the British Government as a general fact without any limitations, and that the British Government contended that this situation followed as a result of execution of the Kellogg-Briand pact."

The Secretary added that he had received a copy of the "White Paper," and after reading it carefully had found that these assumptions as to the position of the British Government were unfounded.

"The argument made by the British Government," he said, "was based upon the relations of that Government to its fellow members in the League of Nations, and upon that in the Covenant of the League of Nations providing for members of that Covenant, and its argument that as between members of the League there can be no neutral rights because there can be no neutrals."

"The argument thus does not apply to the position of the United States as a signatory of the Kellogg-Briand pact."

Mr. Stimson continued: "As has been pointed out many times, that pact contains no covenant similar to that in the Covenant of the League of Nations providing for members of that Covenant, and its argument that as between members of the League there can be no neutral rights because there can be no neutrals."

NEW CHIEF JUSTICE
OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—It was announced today that Hon. J. P. Prendergast, of the Manitoba Court of Appeals, has been appointed Chief Justice in Manitoba.

Arsenic-Filled Christmas Cakes Go Abroad in U.S. And Canada But Not Eaten

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Nine home-baked Christmas cakes accidentally seasoned with enough arsenic poison to kill, were successfully apprehended before they appeared at Christmas tables by the United States and Canada Food and Drug Administrations.

A continuous search from Friday, December 20, to Sunday Dec. 22, finally brought to light the probable Canadian destination of the fruit cake. Inspector Larrick warned the family by long distance telephone. He also reported to the commercial secretary of the Canadian Legation, who telephoned Dominion food authorities.

When the unopened package reached its destination on December 26 it bore its original Christmas seal and also the official seal of the Canadian Government with the contamination of the food and drug administration.

HAD MISTAKEN POWDER
Investigation revealed that a sack of flour in the cake-maker's home accidentally had been mixed with a white powder purchased as an insecticide for garden use and containing calcium arsenate. The housewife who baked the fruit cake, and who ate food made from the poisoned flour, is now in a serious condition from arsenic poisoning. Dr. Dunbar said.

THREE DIE OF COLD

Date of Opening Of Parliament to Be Known Shortly

OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—The date for the opening of Parliament will be given out "as early as possible in the New Year." This was stated by Premier Mackenzie King tonight. There will be no further meeting of the Cabinet for some time.

LATEST PLAN OF CHINA TO JUMP DUTIES

Minister of Finance Proposes to Inaugurate New and Higher Tariffs Beginning Next February

GOVERNMENT KEEPS TO SILENT POLICY

NANKING, Dec. 30.—The Central Daily News, local organ of the Nationalist Government, today said the Ministry of Finance is planning to inaugurate on February 1 numerous changes in China's present import tariff schedule, whose first year of operation closes on January 31.

The newspaper stated that although official announcements were lacking it was expected the changes would constitute a general upward revision from the present schedule. The present tariff Act, when inaugurated, was termed by the Nationalist Government as "temporary, experimental and effective for one year, when a more thoroughly considered schedule becomes effective."

BEING KEPT SECRET
Although the proposed new rates are being kept secret, said The Central Daily News, it is anticipated that cigarette imports, which during the past year have been subjected to a maximum levy of 50 per cent, will be taxed to a minimum of 65 per cent under the new schedule.

Other anticipated rates include cotton piece goods, 15 per cent; an increase of 50 per cent, and knitted goods, 40 per cent, as against 15 per cent at present.

The newspaper said a host of other imports were due for increased levies. Such a schedule, if executed, is expected to result in further increases in the cost of living and in business expenses in China, which experienced a sharp upward trend in the last year, especially among persons using imported products. This group includes the foreigners.

Mr. Crerar Will Not Take Duties For Three Weeks
OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals, today sworn in as Minister of Railways and Canals, but will take over his duties in about three weeks, he said tonight. Mr. Crerar intends spending New Year's Day in Montreal and expects to leave on Friday or Saturday for the West.

Nationalists of China Give Big Powers Warning
NANKING, Dec. 30.—The Nationalist Government's Foreign Office indicated tonight that it had dispatched identical telegrams to Chinese powers enjoying extraterritorial rights in China, instructing the Ministers "to notify the respective Governments of the mandate of the Nationalist Government terminating extraterritoriality."

Their Majesties Reply to Loyal Address from B.C.
HON. S. F. Tolmie, Prime Minister of British Columbia, has received a message conveying New Year's greetings from their Majesties the King and the Queen to the people of this province. The message reads as follows:

The Prime Minister, Am commanded by His Excellency the Administrator to inform you that he has received the following message for you from the private secretary to His Majesty the King:

The Queen and I have received with much pleasure the loyal message of good wishes for the new year which you and the ministers of the Government of British Columbia have addressed to us on behalf of the people of the province. We thank you sincerely for the sentiments of affection to which your message gives expression and we send to you and the people of British Columbia our best wishes for prosperity and happiness in the coming year.—George, R.I.

F. L. C. PERIERA, Deputy Assistant Secretary.

MAKES GOOD PROGRESS
OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, who is ill with pneumonia, continued to improve today. Attending physicians expressed themselves well pleased with the progress Mr. Motherwell is making.

China Thinks Japan Not to Be Menacing
NANKING, Dec. 30.—Tokio dispatches saying the Nationalist Government's refusal to accept Torikichi Obata as Japanese Minister to China had resulted in a "delicate situation" between the two countries.

Chinese official circles doubt that the Japanese Government will act as suggested. The Nationalist Government indicated it considers itself supported by international practice in such matters in requesting the nomination of a person other than the one proposed, adding that no valid reason was apparent as to why Tokyo insisted upon the acceptance of Obata.

Further Delays Occur in Start To Search North
FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 30.—Pilot Matt Niemmen, who will guide the squad of Canadian airmen on their flight of more than 400 miles from here to the Bering Strait coast, from where they will start a search for the missing flyers, Ben Nelson and Earl Borsland, arrived here today. On the ground here the thermometer remained at 50 below zero all day.

The Canadians, under Chief Pilot Reid, did not put their three big Fairchild cabin planes up for tests today, and if the extreme cold spell continues, they will probably postpone the projected flight to Nome tomorrow.

Niemmen, who will fly one of the three cabin planes, replaces Pilot William Broadhead, who left yesterday for Vancouver, B.C. Pilot Clifford Swartman and Reid will fly the other two planes, and each of the three will carry a mechanic.

BUS ISSUE SITUATION UNCHANGED

Instructions," Mr. Pringle said. Following a lengthy discussion, the council, on motion of Alderman J. L. Mara, seconded by Alderman Robert A. C. Dewar, ordered the city solicitor's report "received and filed."

PROPOSAL DEFEATED

Later, the council rejected, on a nine-to-two vote, a motion sponsored by Alderman E. S. Woodward, seconded by Alderman H. O. Litchfield, that the city solicitor be instructed to confer with the Provincial Public Works Department with a view to ascertaining if the City Council can secure the re-establishment of the rights of the city over all the streets of the city.

After City Solicitor Pringle's report had been read to the council, Alderman Woodward said he considered that the city should seek legislation to re-establish its rights over all its streets. He suggested that the city solicitor should be authorized to confer with the Public Works Department to see if the city cannot have rights to regulate, control and prohibit in respect to all city streets. He observed that the city would have the right to prohibit in connection with motor vehicles from plying for hire on the Gorge Road, Quadra Street or Haultain Street.

Alderman Woodward referred to recent communications received by the council from the Public Works Department, asking the city if it would recommend that certificates be issued to transportation companies to ply on the Haultain bus route.

"These communications, I think, indicate that the Provincial Government evidently desires that the City of Victoria shall have jurisdiction over its streets. I think it shows that the Public Works Department wants to co-operate with us, and that we co-operate with them."

NO POWER TO PROHIBIT

Mayor Herbert Anscomb reiterated that the city had no power to prohibit any motor vehicle from plying for hire on the Haultain line.

"Yet we have prohibited buses from operating on a certain portion of Port Street," commented Alderman James Adam.

His Worship stated that the council, in doing this, was carrying out the provisions of an agreement which the city entered into with the B.C. Electric in 1920. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar recalled that legislation was passed "when the jitneys were operating."

City Solicitor Pringle remarked that if the city had the power to prohibit motor vehicles from plying on the Haultain bus route, and decided to use that power, it would have to prohibit other buses besides the class "A" vehicle, which, at present are being operated in that service.

"The very intention of the Act of 1920 was to eliminate competition with the B.C. Electric Railways. The three routes, Haultain, Gorge and Quadra Streets, were to be operated by the B.C. Electric, and the Legislature said leave these three routes wide open," Mr. Pringle declared.

Alderman Woodward felt that the council was dealing with a matter that was larger than a dispute between two transportation concerns, for it was an issue of the rights of the City Council over the streets of Victoria.

RE-ESTABLISH RIGHTS

Alderman H. O. Litchfield said he believed that the position taken by Alderman Woodward was sound, one with respect to the city's rights over the streets, and considered that the council should take steps to endeavor to have its rights re-established. "We should approach the Provincial Government and see if they are willing to strengthen our hands and give us the right to prohibit and regulate on our streets. We want the power to prohibit, and to be able to have it," he said.

"We have the power to prohibit on some streets," stated Alderman Woodward, "but have no power to prohibit on others. And these prohibitions are in favor of the B.C. Electric."

Alderman Woodward said that an efficient transportation company had given satisfactory service on the Haultain bus route, and now another company had come in and was disrupting the service.

"If some company is coming in and disrupting the service on the Haultain line," said Alderman Dewar, "the same thing can be said of the On-Bay line, where a company has disrupted the B.C. Electric has been giving the On-Bay line one of the best services which the B.C. Electric gives in the city."

"NOT INTERESTED"

Alderman Woodward declared that the complaint of many residents in Oak Bay municipality was that they could not get the transportation service to the outlying sections of the district. They approached the B.C. Electric and said they wanted a service. "My information is that the B.C. Electric said 'We are not interested,' and refused to do so, and told them to go and get some one else to give the service. And that is what happened. Another company put buses on the Oak Bay line."

Alderman Strath said that if the city opened up the agreement regarding the question of fares, routes, etc., in regard to the Haultain line, it would have to do so in respect to the Quadra Street and Gorge Road routes. "I do not favor that action being taken. We are given power by the Municipal Act to control, the same powers being given to all municipalities. And I think we should be satisfied with such powers."

"The public," added Alderman Dewar, "are not suffering on the Haultain route; in fact, they are getting splendid service right now."

ALDERMAN MARCHANT
Alderman William Marchant expressed the view that prohibition on power which should not be given even to the City Council. The streets were for the use of the citizens as a whole and large repair work should be open and available for proper use.

"Why should we endeavor to prohibit the right of individuals to use the city streets? Proper regulation, such as to prevent too much traffic and to regulate the manner of use, and one which we should have. I would like to see the rival companies get together and reach a working arrangement and settle their own differences, instead of coming to the council and putting it in the invidious position of having to choose between them," Alderman Marchant asserted.

MR. CRERAR TAKES PLACE IN MINISTRY

When council rose, Mr. King returned to his office, where newspaper men were awaiting for him, accompanied by Senator Forke.

SENATOR FORKE

Let me introduce to you Senator Forke, said the Premier.

Mr. Forke smiled at congratulations were offered him, and Mr. King thanked him for his help while a member of the Cabinet.

The Prime Minister then outlined to newspaper men what had happened.

The appointment of Mr. Crerar, said Premier King, increased the number of portfolios going to Western Canada, and diminished those in the East. He wished it to be clearly understood that there would be no change in the position of the portfolios should be maintained.

The relationship of the provinces respecting Cabinet posts had been carefully worked out, and this had been determined. There was no intention of delaying the readjustment of which he spoke, but he was not in a position to say just when it could be made.

Mr. King went on to say that there would probably be a reorganization of some of the Government responsibilities in the near future.

THREE NEW ELECTIONS

Writes have been issued for the three by-elections in Bagot, Chateaugay and Brandon. In Chateaugay and Bagot, nomination day was set for January 27, and in Brandon election day February 3. In Brandon nominations will take place on Wednesday, February 5, and polling on Wednesday, February 12.

SITUATION AT BRANDON

WINNIPEG, Dec. 30.—Appointment of Hon. T. A. Crerar as Minister of Railways and Canals for Canada, and the elevation to the Senate of Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, centres interest in the constituency of Brandon. Mr. Crerar will seek election to the Dominion House in the constituency which Mr. Forke has represented for many years.

Forecast for sometime, Mr. Crerar's appointment has set the political pot boiling in Brandon, and constituency leaders of both the Liberal and Conservative parties to prohibit on others. And these prohibitions are in favor of the B.C. Electric."

Alderman Woodward said that an efficient transportation company had given satisfactory service on the Haultain bus route, and now another company had come in and was disrupting the service.

"If some company is coming in and disrupting the service on the Haultain line," said Alderman Dewar, "the same thing can be said of the On-Bay line, where a company has disrupted the B.C. Electric has been giving the On-Bay line one of the best services which the B.C. Electric gives in the city."

IN FULL CONTROL

to the administration laboratory on December 19. This cake, purchased from a housekeeper who conducts a small retail business in home-baked Christmas fruit cakes, had made several persons in nearby Virginia ill.

Without waiting completion of the chemical analysis, the administration detained Inspector J. P. L. Lick to find and secure the definite return of every fruit cake which had been distributed.

LOADED WITH POISON

The chemical analysis showed the cake heavily loaded with poison, containing in some instances nearly 2,000 times the amount regarded within the limit of safety. Inspector Larrick learned this cake was one of nine baked for the Christmas trade. Eight cakes were quickly located. The ninth had been bought as a Christmas present for relatives in Canada by a house to house agent whose identity and whereabouts were unknown.

stand at $16,111,785. The tax rate for 1929 was the same as the previous year, namely 41 mills, made up as follows: For debt purposes, 16,7863 mills; for school purposes, 12,2674 mills, and for general purposes, 11,9467 mills. The total levy amounted to $1,613,113. Collections of current taxes amount to approximately 81 per cent, being the highest percentage of collections for many years. It is satisfactory to note that for the first time for many years all sinking funds are up to requirements.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

"The general improvement in conditions throughout Victoria and district has been reflected in the increased use made of the city library and its facilities. Registrations of residents in Victoria and surrounding districts have increased by over 2,000 and the circulation is greater by 20,000. The reference department is most popular, and the increasing use being made of the facilities provided will shortly necessitate enlargement of the present accommodation. Arrangements with adjoining municipalities regarding the use of the library are now working quite harmoniously. The library staff is finding the present building quite inadequate to cope with present-day requirements and the Library Board is giving consideration to the question with a view to relieving the existing situation.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

"The work of Chief Fry and his staff has been excellent, and the members of the force generally are to be congratulated on the courteous and efficient manner in which their difficult duties have been carried out. A full detailed report of the activities of the department will be furnished by the Board of Police Commissioners.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

"This department continues to function in its usual efficient manner. During the year the department has answered 459 alarms; of these there were only eighty-four fires with loss, the total fire loss for the year amounting to $37,301, a very small total for a city of this size. Good service was also rendered in the adjoining municipality of Oak Bay when a very serious fire occurred at the Arena.

TENDERS THANKS

"I desire to thank the members of the City Council for the loyal support given to me during the past year and for the very harmonious way in which the business of the city has been carried on.

"Thanks are also due for their assistance and co-operation and the efficient manner in which their duties have been performed.

"We are also greatly indebted to the press for the able way in which civic affairs have been presented to the public, and the valuable publicity given.

"H. ANSCOMB, Mayor."

CONGRESS IN INDIA TODAY IS FATEFUL

progressive campaign of nonviolent character, there is the possibility that the Congress itself may revoke this view and press for immediate action against British rule.

BOYCOTTING PROPOSALS

Boycott of the legislative councils was carried by the executive committee, but an amendment also to boycott the law courts was defeated only by a narrow majority. Both the Gandhi section and the more extremist section are preparing to canvass carefully the delegates.

Mr. Gandhi's resolution, urging boycott of the legislatures, omitted mention of the boycott of municipalities where the oath of allegiance is administered. This is believed to strengthen the view that capture of the municipal councils is not inconsistent with the avowed policy of the independent faction.

The conference, which is regarded as of extreme importance, both in the history of the Indian independence movement and in the appearance of a great influx of Sikhs, famous warriors of the Punjab.

PICTURESQUE INTERLUDE

Today a great procession of Sikhs headed by President Khark Singh, their leader, riding on an elephant, made its way through the city and held a monster meeting outside the old fort.

President Singh announced at this conference that a report made by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, dealing with communal representation, had been discarded and that Mahatma Gandhi had assured him no communal solution would be made in the future which did not satisfy the Sikhs. Gandhi had promised the Sikhs that they would have a special color in the national flag.

Khark Singh therefore advised the Sikhs to work for complete national independence. In his address Khark Singh and other leaders declared that the Sikhs would fight to the bitter end to prevent communal government in the Punjab.

ANOTHER PICTURE

MADRAS, India, Dec. 30.—In strong contrast to the extremist aspirations of the Indian National Congress at Lahore, is the attitude of the Indian National Liberal Federation now meeting here. The Liberal Federation, agreeing with British declaration of ultimate Dominion status for India pledges participation in the proposed round table conference in London and urges that Indian Progressives should have preponderant representation at the conference.

The National Liberal body today passed a resolution condemning the bombing of the vice-regal train a few days ago, receding to an abhorrence and detestation of a crime wholly repugnant to the spirit of Indian life and culture.

Another resolution moved by Sir T. Bhadur Sapru, and approved, welcomed the Viceroy's announcement of October 31, as authoritatively confirming the view that Dominion status for India was implied in the London declaration of 1917, that if definitely recognized, British India and the Indian Native States should form a greater united India, and that it considers India's claims to the right to confer on a footing

Modification of Prohibition Law Again Proposed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Modification of the prohibition law to permit the manufacture of light wine and beer as a farm relief step was proposed today by Representative Cochran, Democrat, Missouri.

In the latest statement centering about prohibition, the Missouri said he would advocate "a dignified effort" by the wet bloc of Congress to show the "necessity" for modification. "Modification of the Volstead Law so as to permit the manufacture of beer and light wine not intoxicating in fact," he said, "would mean nearly a billion dollars in taxes to the Government, money now going into the pockets of the bootlegger."

"The farmers would again have a market for their cereals and there would be no surplus," he continued. "The farmers' bankrupt condition dates back to the time prohibition was forced upon the people of the country."

One night when her mother reminded her that it was her bedtime, she said: "It isn't fair. At night you tell me I'm too little to stay up and in the morning you say that I'm too big to stay in bed."

REV. S. LUNDIE CASE GOES TO HIGHER COURT

Accused Is Bound Over to Appear for Trial—Hearing by Grand Jury Probable Next Stage

DECISION GIVEN IN PROVINCIAL COURT

Decision as to the disposal of the charge of manslaughter laid against Rev. Samuel Lundie, of Sooke, as a result of a fatal hunting accident, was given by the Provincial Court yesterday. The accused was bound over in two sureties of $1,000 each to appear to take his trial, when and where called upon to do so, at the next court of competent jurisdiction. The effect of this is that, in the ordinary course of events, the charge will go before the grand jury at the Spring assizes, and whether or not the accused shall be tried by a judge and jury will depend upon whether or not the grand jury finds a true bill.

Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell and Mr. Thomas Humphries gave the required sureties, thus continuing to act as bondsmen.

Evidence in the preliminary hearing was given on Monday, December 23, when Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., appeared for the accused, and Corporal Harvey, of the provincial police, for the Crown. Decision was reserved by the magistrate until yesterday to give time for full consideration.

In delivering his decision yesterday, Magistrate Jay said:

MAGISTRATE'S DECISION.

"The accused is charged that on November 18, 1929, at or near Sooke, he unlawfully did kill Louis Godtel, thereby committing manslaughter. Manslaughter is defined in Section 262 of the Criminal Code as 'culpable homicide, not amounting to murder.'"

"The facts disclosed by the evidence and by the statements of the accused were that on the day in question the accused and the deceased, Louis Godtel, went together hunting, that they proceeded together for some distance and then decided to separate. The deceased, Godtel, turned off to the right and the accused continued in the direction in which he was going, each having as an objective certain rocks. The accused went some distance further and, as he states, he then heard something in the woods or brush. The evidence is that at the point where the body was found there is a heavy growth of broom and salal. The accused says that he heard something in the broom and saw a shadow; he then fired, and upon going forward to the spot he found the body of his friend, Godtel."

"It is not necessary for me to search for a legal interpretation of the word 'culpable.' It means some act arousing or causing blame, or whether or not the action of the accused carries that degree of blame given by Rev. E. W. Carter, on New Year's Day celebrations of the holy communion will take place in the chapel of Memorial Hall at 8 and 10:30 o'clock."

The Metropolitan service will commence at 11 o'clock, and the pastor extends a welcome to the public to attend. An invitation is given to the people in Fernwood district to attend the Emmanuel Baptist service at 11 o'clock. At this gathering, at which Rev. J. Hood and a number of members of Belmont Avenue United Church will be present, Rev. A. J. Vincent, of the First Baptist Church, will give an address. The Central Baptist pastor announces an old-time watch night service which will begin at 11 o'clock and end at midnight. Adjutant Merritt will lead the meeting at the Salvation Army chapel, commencing at 10 o'clock. The Church of Our Lord will commence its service at 11:15.

On New Year's Day the annual rally of the Presbyterian Sunday schools will take place at St. Andrew's church, commencing at 11 o'clock and lasting one hour. The gallery is reserved for visitors, and the offering goes to the missions of the Presbyterian Church. Rev. A. O. Thomson will give the address.

A watch night service will be held in the schoolroom of Emmanuel Baptist Church, beginning at 11 o'clock and ending a few minutes after welcoming the new year.

There will be no set order of service other than a brief address to be given by Rev. A. J. Vincent, of the First Baptist Church. The meeting will be open for a number to take part in song, testimony and prayer. Rev. James Hood and a number of the Belmont United Church members will be present. The public is invited to attend.

Trustees Express Regret at Retirement From School Body of Mr. A. Peden and Mr. H. C. Pike

MR. PEDEN REPORTS UPON CONVENTION

"I have served upon many boards, both public and private, but I have never run across any body of men who are more sincere in their purpose more fair in their dealings," said Mr. Alex. Peden, at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the city school board.

Mr. Peden, who is retiring from the board of trustees in order to take the position of alderman on the City Council, has filled his presidency. Both he and Trustee Pike are also retiring, and who said a few words of appreciation of his thanked for their past services by the other members of the board.

Mr. Peden reported on the recent convention of the School Trustees' Association. He said, among other matters, he said, a resolution from Prince George, which had to do with the taking over of school affairs by the municipal council, was defeated.

It was indicated at the convention that in cases where the Council of Education was for the private instruction to school teachers, the Government had agreed that information concerning such instruction must be forwarded to the school boards, interested.

"One thing resulting from the attendance of the secretary of the School Trustees' Association at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities' convention at Harrison Hot Springs, struck me very forcibly," said Mr. Peden. "This was that a greater spirit of co-operation and sympathy existed between municipal councils and school boards than had ever been the case in previous years."

BURGLARS GET $400 IN LOOT

Jewelry Taken From Residence of Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell Sunday Night Is Biggest Haul Yet

Believed to have gained an entrance through an open window sometime between 7 and 10 o'clock Sunday night, burglars took jewelry valued at between $300 and $400 from the residence of Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, 62 Linden Avenue, according to a report made at the city police station.

Police are of the opinion that the culprits watched the house, and after seeing the occupants leave, made their entrance by way of a window.

The loot taken is the largest obtained by any of the prowlers who are believed to be operating in different parts of the city. Many reports of attempted entry to homes and minor burglaries in which small sums of loose cash have been stolen, have been received.

Detectives have been working on the matter for some time, but to date no arrests have been effected.

A recent conviction was secured of a youth who attempted to enter the Piggly Wiggly store on Fort Street, but the home-breakers are still at large.

REV. S. LUNDIE CASE GOES TO HIGHER COURT

DECISION GIVEN IN PROVINCIAL COURT

Decision as to the disposal of the charge of manslaughter laid against Rev. Samuel Lundie of Sooke, as a result of a fatal hunting accident, was given by the Provincial Magistrate George Jay in the Provincial Police Court yesterday. The accused was bound over in two sureties of $1,000 each to appear to take his trial, when and where called upon to do so, at the next court of competent jurisdiction. The effect of this is that, in the ordinary course of events, the charge will go before the grand jury at the Spring assizes, and whether or not the accused shall be tried by a judge and jury will depend upon whether or not the grand jury finds a true bill.

Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell and Mr. Thomas Humphries gave the required sureties, thus continuing to act as bondsmen.

Evidence in the preliminary hearing was given on Monday, December 23, when Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., appeared for the accused, and Corporal Harvey, of the provincial police, for the Crown. Decision was reserved by the magistrate until yesterday to give time for full consideration.

In delivering his decision yesterday, Magistrate Jay said:

"The accused is charged that on November 18, 1929, at or near Sooke, he unlawfully did kill Louis Godtel, thereby committing manslaughter. Manslaughter is defined in Section 262 of the Criminal Code as 'culpable homicide, not amounting to murder.'"

"The facts disclosed by the evidence and by the statements of the accused were that on the day in question the accused and the deceased, Louis Godtel, went together hunting in the woods or brush, decided to separate. The deceased, Godtel, turned off to the right and the accused continued in the direction in which he was going, each having as an objective certain racks. The accused went some distance further and, as he states, he then heard something in the woods or brush. The evidence is that at the point where the body was found there is a heavy growth of broom and alder. The accused said he heard something in the broom and saw a shadow; he then fired, and upon going forward to the spot he found the body of his friend, Godtel."

"It is not necessary for me to search for a legal interpretation of the word 'culpable.' It means some act arousing or causing blame, or if I were to attempt to decide as to whether or not the action of the accused carries that degree of blame within the meaning of the section, I should be assuming the responsibility of the jury—something I am not called upon to do and have not authority to do."

NOT ON TRIAL

"The accused is not on trial before me. I have simply to decide whether the facts constitute such a case as should be submitted for trial to a higher court. I have been considering this, and I think that there is such a case. Considering all the surrounding circumstances and also the admissions made by the accused, I think that this is a proper case for me in my discretion to adopt the practice laid down in Section 696 of the Criminal Code. That section provides that, instead of formally committing the accused for trial, the court may call upon the accused to furnish bail in such sureties as will insure his appearance for trial at such time and place as may be fixed."

"Two sureties of $1,000 each will be required and the accused will be bound over to appear at the proper time and place to take his trial on charge of the offence."

EFFECT OF DECISION

Section 696 of the Criminal Code, to which the magistrate referred, provides that where, in the opinion of the court, the evidence is sufficient to put the accused on his trial, but does not furnish such a strong presumption of his guilt as to warrant his commitment, the magistrate may admit the accused to bail. The procedure followed, therefore, indicates that in the opinion of the magistrate the evidence did not warrant commitment.

In the regular course of events, the charge will now go over to the Spring assizes, when it will be brought before a grand jury. Whether or not the accused will be called before a judge and jury for trial will depend upon whether or not the grand jury finds a true bill.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

We happened to look up at the calendar hanging on the wall, and beheld that it was the last day of the year. We tore the last leaf off the calendar and dropped it into the waste-paper basket. And so far as this department is concerned, that was the only ceremony that officially marked the death of the year 1929; but memories of the old year could not be dealt with so summarily; they could not be torn from the mind like a leaf from the calendar and dropped in the waste-paper basket. As the old year tottered on worn and weary feet towards the boundary of the far country for which we are all bound, while we remembered that on the whole he had dealt very gently with us, we also could not but remember that during his reign, begun amidst great acclaim just twelve short months ago, many old friends, and not a few young friends whose span of life was all too short, had passed ahead of the old year and us into the mysterious shadow-land.

Ah, well, our readers will say, and will be justified in saying, of what avail such dull, dreary and dismal reflections in times like these when the procession of life surges along so swiftly and merrily. In the old days when the king died, the herald sounded a trumpet and cried: "The king is dead; long live the king!" Even in our own times the band which leads a procession to the cemetery playing a solemn dead march returns from the cemetery playing a merry and quick march.

After all, there is so real substance in the thing we call the year; it is but an abstraction or so many days marked upon a calendar for the purposes of business or pleasure. Why moan or mourn for a wrath or a shadow when the multitude is shouting for joy over the birth of a new year which, while it also is without form or substance, yet by exercise of the imagination may be endowed with abounding life and carry in its triumphant train great expectations of brighter days and more prosperous times. So ring out the old with slow and solemn tones of the bells and ring in the new with merry chimes. Pull down the old calendar from the wall and hang up a new one in its place. Forget the past; look forward in hope and confidence towards the future.

The year which is dead was given a bolsterous reception when it was born. It was to be a year of great expectations and rich realizations. All the great expectations were realized—up to a certain point. At that point visions began to fade and doubts to appear. A partial crop failure in Canada was followed by a stock crash in the United States. To use a term which was greatly in vogue a few years ago, there are certain "interlocking" relations between the business of the United States and the business of Canada. The Congress of the United States is doing its best to limit the bounds of that interlocking business, but still it abounds to some extent. The partial crop failure in Canada may not have had any effect whatever upon the business of the United States, but the stock crash in the United States exchanges undoubtedly did affect the business of Canada.

The President of the United States, after taking counsel with the big business interests of that country, decided that something must be done to create, by modern psychological processes, an atmosphere of business and industrial hope and confidence. If business actually was bad, it could be made better, if not actually good, by cultivating an impression that it was good. It was not necessary to do anything of that kind in Canada, for business in Canada, while it has not reached the high expectations entertained in the early part of the year, is not as buoyant as it would have been but for the partial crop failure and the fall of paper values on the stock exchanges. While we realize that when business is dull it cannot be made active by deluding ourselves into the belief that it is good any more than a man by taking thought can add a certain number of cubits to his stature, there is not the least doubt that compared with other countries Canada is a prosperous land and the prospects for the future exceedingly bright.

If the Canadian crop has not been up to expectations, we have passed beyond the point when we carried all our wealth and hopes in a market basket. Canada is a great agricultural country, and agriculture always will be one of our basic industries; but Canada has become a great industrial country, and our many and varied industries are being rapidly developed upon many and varied natural resources, upon the natural wealth of our mines and forests and fisheries and almost illimitable water powers. We are blessed with stable government and security of life and property. Whatever the new year may bring to other countries, and notably to our Mother Country, where the conditions both at home and abroad are far from reassuring, it brings an assurance of peace and prosperity to Canada.

CHANGES AT OTTAWA

The King Government is going to celebrate the advent of the new year by a process of elimination and augmentation. Hon. Robert Forke, who has been neither a source of strength nor of inspiration, is going out and Hon. T. A. Crerar, who is expected to be both, is coming in. The Premier, knowing that a general election must be held at either as early a date as possible or at as remote a date as possible as seems to be most convenient considering the business circumstances of the country, is trying to strengthen his Ministry at the point where it seems to be weak. Recent political events have indicated that the Government has lost strength in the West as well as in the East. There is little hope of the administration of a tonic restoring the strength that has been lost in Ontario. There is believed to be a chance of recovering the ground that has been lost in the West. Hence the exit of Forke and the advent of Crerar. As someone has said: "The coming political battle, whenever it comes, will be fought on the Western Front." That strategic front does not include British Columbia. It does not extend beyond the barricade of mountains. For a time hope was entertained that the reconstruction of the Government would be begun in this province and finished at some point in the East. But the Premier put his foot down on the movement in this province, on the ground that it might not prove effective and might prove hazardous. So that the Government which will go to the country is the Government as it has been reconstructed and possibly strengthened where it was weak. Although the Government, through its chosen agencies at Ottawa, is following the example of the Government of the United States, and trying to create a favorable psychological business and political atmosphere, it is not likely to face a general election while the existing political and business conditions prevail.

WIDOW'S PRAYER ANSWERED

In the absence of R.B.D., otherwise engaged, the editor takes the liberty of acknowledging receipt from correspondents of copies of four versions of St. Patrick's Prayer. We thank our contributors for the pains they have taken to relieve a widow who is in spiritual trouble as well as in unfortunate worldly circumstances. Space will not permit of the publication of more than one of the prayers of the Saint, and the one we have chosen was enclosed in the following timely and interesting letter:

318 Vancouver St., Victoria, B.C. December 28, 1929.

Dear R.B.D.—Here are two versions of St. Patrick's prayer, or hymn, or breastplate, for your widow correspondent.

The widow's problem is a difficult one to answer; in fact, it is one of those affairs that arouses sympathy, but all the same outsiders had better stay outside and keep their advice to themselves. Some mothers are no better than they ought to be—as mothers—but it ought to be a sacred duty with a child to assist a parent who needs help, more especially the mother. It is possible, however, that with the best will in the world what a man or woman can do for a parent is little enough, financially. A place in the son's home seems logical, but is not always possible. It does not appear that in this case the widow's son is married, a big factor in such a problem. Many a good mother and son have been separated by marriage—and the cause is not always the daughter-in-law. It will do no harm to remind your correspondent that in this province the law throws a duty on children to provide for parents under certain conditions. Perhaps if she got some friend to remind her son of that fact it might do some good, and then again it might not.

With the best of the season's good wishes and may you long continue to delight a widening circle of readers, including,

FRATERNALLY,

ROBERT J. HARTLEY.

St. Patrick's Hymn, commonly known as St. Patrick's Breastplate, is probably a genuine production of the saint and is in any case very old. The best literal translation from the original Irish is that by Whitley Stokes, a foremost authority on Gaelic and Celtic lore.

I bind myself today to a strong virtue, an invocation of the Trinity:

I believe in Thineess with confession of a Oneness in the Creator of the Universe.

I bind myself today to the virtue of Christ's birth with his baptism.

To the virtue of his conflict with his burial.

To the virtue of his resurrection with his ascension.

To the virtue of his coming to the Judgment of Doom.

I bind myself today to the virtue of ranks of Cherubim.

In obedience of Angels.

In hope of resurrection for reward.

In prayers of Patriarchs.

In predictions of Prophets.

In preachings of Apostles.

In faiths of Confessors.

In innocence of holy Virgins.

In deeds of righteous men.

I bind myself today to the virtue of Heaven.

In light of Sun.

In brightness of Snow.

In splendor of Fire.

In speed of Lightning.

In swiftness of Wind.

In depth of Sea.

In stability of Earth.

In compactness of Rock.

I bind myself today to God's virtue to pilot me.

God's Might to uphold me.

God's Wisdom to guide me.

God's Eye to look before me.

God's Ear to hear me.

God's Word to speak for me.

God's Hand to guard me.

God's Way to lie before me.

God's Shield to protect me.

God's Host to secure me.

Against snares of demons.

Against seductions of vices.

Against lusts of nature.

Against everyone who wishes ill to me.

Afar and anear.

Alone and in a multitude!

So have I invoked all these virtues between me and thee.

Against every cruel merciless power which may come against my body and my soul;

Against incantations of false prophets,

Against black laws of heathenry,

Against false laws of heretics,

Against craft of idolatry,

Against spells of women and smiths and druids,

Against every knowledge that defiles men's souls.

Christ to protect me today.

Against poison, against burning, against drowning, against deathwound,

Until a multitude of rewards come to me.

Christ with me, Christ before me, Christ behind me, Christ in me!

Christ below me, Christ above me, Christ at my right, Christ at my left!

Christ in breadth, Christ in length, Christ in height!

Christ in heart of everyone who thinks of me, Christ in the mouth of everyone who speaks to me,

Christ in every eye that sees me,

Christ in every ear that hears me!

I bind myself today to a strong virtue, an invocation of the Trinity.

I believe in a Threeness with confession of a Oneness in the Creator of the Universe.

FOREIGNERS IN CANADA

Sir—I note in The Colonist a letter by W. A. Drayton on the above subject. Mr. Drayton, in common with thousands of his fellow countrymen, is inclined to attribute every evil on this continent to the foreigner. As one myself, kindly allow me a little space to clear up this fallacy.

I am not a Socialist, but I believe with them that all wealth comes from labor, the laborers in turn often become capitalists and employ more labor, and this means a new country is built up. The United States of America is an example of this. I doubt if a single factory in America could run a day without the foreigner, the miner, the digger and other skilled mechanics. California is one of the richest States in the Union, and it pays today the highest wages to white men in the world.

We read about the evils of cheap labor and the sins of the foreigner in working long hours and sending some of his wages home. He has left behind him a monument in the shape of railroads, factories and cities, built almost entirely by Swedes, Italians, Chinese, Mexican and foreign labor. Every one of us owes his life to the foreigner, whose combined efforts very largely made it possible for the native born to live in the luxury he enjoys today. Of this vast horde of workers and their work little is said. Many of them, dig, mine and mine, and what is still worse they are accused of being the authors of the crime of crime and lawlessness now in vogue in the United States of America.

I can assure Mr. Drayton that if he will live for a few months, as I have done, in Tennessee, Missouri, South Dakota and parts of Virginia, he will see more crime among the Hill Billies, crackers and other natives and native born than in all the foreigners that live in the States—a country that counts from forty to 200 lynchings per year by native born citizens should not criticize the foreign element. London, Paris, Berlin all have a large foreign element and are no so-called "crime problem."

Germany is taking 1,000 of the much-criticized Mennonites. She has world conditions, first there was the inflation of war conditions; second, the prostration of Europe following the war.

vital questions of the country are seldom or never discussed. They never dare to talk on the wheat pool or the wholesale destruction of our fish by the canner or fish meal plants. The common topic is how good and prosperous we are and how nice it is of us to live so peacefully with our neighbors, that we do not need a navy to guard our borders. If these organizations are in earnest, let them drop politics and get away from these platitudes and take a hand in discussing unemployment, immigration and topics that are educational to the country at large.

Mr. Drayton is to be congratulated for taking enough interest in the country he lives in to discuss the question in the papers—the people are getting tired of the beating about the bush by our public men. We are faced with a period of depression in business, and this cannot be cured by talking about "cabbages and kings."

CHRISTMAS IN HOSPITAL

Sir—I feel that I cannot but express our thanks for the care and kindness shown us here this holiday season by the sisters, doctors and nurses and all kind friends. It certainly brings back to me memories of when we were overseas where we got the same treatment, the same care and kindness. Here again we are sharing our Christmas time and in it we are trying to forget all our sorrows.

I did not forget to mention also the ladies from the ex-service men's clubs who visit us from time to time (God bless them). I may say that when we are enjoying ourselves very much, speaking for the other patients as well. A visit to us here is very welcome and helps to pass many an hour away. I must also mention our dear clergy from the dear old Church of England. I am sure their visits are always helpful to us. Wishing you all a most happy new year.

Sir—It will be well for the Saatchi electors to keep in mind, when voting on money bills on January 29, the following:

Canada's extra prosperity in the last few years was due to abnormal world conditions; first there was the inflation of war conditions; second, the prostration of Europe following the war.

BOYS' SESSION PLANS WORK FOR NEW YEAR

Budget of $4,300 Is Approved by Youthful Legislators, of Which Sum Boys Undertake $3,600

PROPOSED PAPER FOR THE MOVEMENT

The Boys' Parliament in session last evening decided that the objective in view for the work of the coming year would be $3,600, distributed in what was agreed upon would be fair shares among the different constituencies.

As originally introduced, the budget provided for the raising of $3,500. When the various allocations were under consideration, however, a Victoria representative in the person of Ross Jung, Minister of Devotional Affairs, felt that the amount set down for the capital city of the province was too low, and he accordingly moved to raise it from $400 to $425. The only other constituency that ranked higher in the allotment was that of New Westminster, which embraces a considerable part of the Lower Mainland, and which was placed at $575.

Following this offer on the part of Victoria to raise its allotment, David Westaway, from Kamloops, offered to take a raise for Thompson, bringing it from $50 to $125.

This obligation was taken over for the work in hand this year, following the adoption of the budget set out for the work. This amounts in all to $4,300. The boys in their own districts undertake to raise the $2,500 for the work.

HOW DISBURSED

The expenditures of these moneys fall under the Religious Education Council of British Columbia, which is composed of a body of representative workers among the young people, including not only the work with the boys, but also with the girls.

The girls will make a drive for funds in connection with the work, and the distribution for the year as between the two was set out at $4,300 for the boys and $5,700 for the girls.

Cyril Williams, of Vancouver Centre, the Minister of Finance, in bringing down the budget covering the year's operations, alluded to the fact that it was larger than before. This was due in large measure to the fact that they had a Boys' Work secretary in the person of Mr. Frank Findler. This official was referred to by him as second to none other in Canada.

The reference to Mr. Findler met with loud applause from the members.

Some of the enterprises of the past year were referred to by the Minister, including that of the fathers' and sons' banquets. Mr. Findler had attended twenty-eight of these. The national athletic meets throughout the province and the various camps held were also referred to by the minister.

Mr. Findler had made a very strong effort in the work of organization in Vancouver, Vancouver Island and in the Lower Mainland. Following this Parliament, it was his intention to launch out on an extension campaign throughout the whole of British Columbia.

DIVISION OF COST

In making reference to the objective of $3,500, he said this was not too great, he believed. With 2,900 boys in the province in this work it would mean only something like $1.15 being raised by each member.

In this connection he referred to one boy last year alone raising $78. This was a Japanese boy, who was enthusiastic in this work.

The bill covering the raising of the money, and which was varied at last night's session of the parliament, sets out the methods to be employed. The campaigns that are conducted are done with the co-operation of the Religious Education Council and with the Girls' Young People's movement.

After the passing of the bill, the premier, Irvine Dawson, lauded the splendid spirit that was shown by the various members in the meeting of the allocations which went to their districts. He hoped that they would manifest a deep activity in attempting to live up to the amounts which were assigned to them.

THE BUDGET

The requirement estimated for the carrying on of the work is set out as follows:

Secretarial, $1,800; stenographic, $680; traveling, $400; National Boys' Work Board, $200; Canadian Mentor, $50; Boys' Parliament, $80; literature and pamphlets, $50; International Convention of Young People, $100; Father and Son, $15; Three C's campaign, $25; National Athletic Contest, $35; camps, $50; new office equipment and library, $20; rent and phone, $230; printing and stationery, $120; telegrams, $10; postage and office supplies, $200; budget campaign, expenses, $200; contingent, $35. Total, $4,300.

PROPOSED PAPER

Before the House adjourned, on motion of the premier, a resolution was passed expressing the readiness of the organization to co-operate when at any time the National Council might decide to take steps to provide for a paper devoted to the work throughout the Dominion.

On the premier's motion, Kenneth Beckett, of Vancouver, was elected delegate to the conference to be held in Toronto in June, 1930, dealing with the national subject of religious education. The alternate delegate elected was Gordon Fields, of Victoria.

MR. R. E. WEAVER PASSES AWAY

Had Been Resident of Ladysmith District for Generation—Widely Known Throughout Province

One of the best-known residents of Ladysmith, where he had resided for more than thirty years, Mr. Richard Ernest Weaver, of Methuen Avenue, died on Saturday evening at the age of sixty-four years. He was a native of Tenbury, Worcestershire, England.

Mr. Weaver was keenly interested in the affairs of Ladysmith, where he took up his residence after many years' experience as a traveler for the Turner, Benton Company, during which time he traveled the Kootenay and Boundary country, and was widely known there.

The Grahams will offer motor car buyers

complete protection of shatter-proof plate glass

On and after January 1, 1930, all cars built by the three Graham brothers will be advanced in price, but at the same time motor car buyers will be offered the complete protection of shatter-proof laminated plate glass, in windows and doors as well as windshields.

The motor car industry and the motor car buying public have long recognized the danger of glass that will shatter and splinter.

It is admitted that, in due time, all motor cars must offer the complete protection of shatter-proof safety glass. Heretofore, the larger motoring public, by force of circumstances, has had to shut its eyes to the constant hazard and danger of broken and flying glass.

Before this, shatter-proof glass could only be had as extra equipment at almost prohibitive cost for the individual car; or in cars of the highest price ranges.

Now, the Grahams have solved the problem of cost, with the cooperation of their distributors and dealers.

The shatter-proof safety plate glass to be used in all cars built by the Grahams is proof against shattering under impact, and while it may be broken by shock or the force of a flying missile, it will not shoot dangerous sharp particles and pointed slivers through the interior of the car.

It joins the clear vision and the strength of high quality plate glass to the toughness of the non-brittle bonding sheet between the two plates of glass, and is one of the most perfect examples of permanent lamination which the glass industry has been able to evolve.

The Grahams and their distributors and dealers are happy to be able to offer to the public an invaluable protection which will probably not be generally available for many months to come.

BURNABY LAKE PLAN EXPLAINED

Project for Securing Site for Lower Mainland Exhibition Discussed
With Government

A delegation having in view the reclamation of Burnaby Lake and the utilization of the area so recovered, amounting to about 400 acres, in conjunction with adjoining lands to the extent of 1,000 acres, waited upon the Provincial Government yesterday asking for the aid of the province in the bringing to fruition plans in view.

The idea which there is in view in connection with the scheme is to convert this whole area into a very attractive place for the use of the public. One of the great ends to be served would be that of having the exhibitions which are now held in Vancouver and New Westminster brought to this place, and conducted as one fair.

There would be provision for a good race course, and for all kinds of amusements. In a general way plans have been prepared by an engineer covering the area which lies about eight miles from Vancouver and about six miles from New Westminster.

The delegation which waited upon the Government was not in a position to say that the fair organizations referred to were agreeable to joining up, and making this plan a workable one.

The Government expressed the wish that those interested should approach the exhibition bodies and find just what they were agreeable to do, and after that was settled then would present the plans to the Government. It was felt that it would be useless to discuss the matter very far until the consent of the fair organizations was obtained.

The delegation which waited upon the Government included Mr. J. W.
Berry, M.P.P. for Delta; Mr. W. R.
Bullock, M.P.P. for Burnaby, and Major T. J. Trapp, of New Westminster.

Districts Hitherto Considered Inaccessible Reached With Speed and Safety
by Airplane

POWER COMPANY ACTIVE IN NORTH

"The flying boat is going to prove of the greatest assistance in opening up mineral areas hitherto regarded as inaccessible," said Mr. J.
Wardlaw Stewart, of the Stewart Land Company, with headquarters at Stewart, B.C., who is at present in the city, and who has occasion to use a plane of the Canadian Airways in connection with his season's activities, crossing the Coast Range in Northern British Columbia several times during the past summer.

Representing the Northern Prospector Syndicate, Stewart investigated the territory from the Portland Canal town north toward the Iskut River, securing much valuable data on the district, which will be of great advantage next season when prospecting is planned on a much more extended scale by this exploration syndicate.

"The airplane is the solution of the prospecting problems in our northern districts," continued Mr.
Stewart, citing an incident where an engineer and his assistant had been landed on a lake within half an hour after leaving Stewart, from where it took them just seventeen days to make the return trip on foot.

"Once access by airboat is available to any extent prospecting in the interior of the northern country will be comparatively easy. That there is a great mineral belt north of Stewart is assured, and there are big metal opportunities as proved by the location of over sixty mineral claims on Treaty Creek, forty miles from Stewart, which were surveyed for Crown grants during the past summer by the Consolidated Company."

Telling of the development of the district during the past season Mr.
Stewart said that many properties were being consistently developed and a large number of new stak-ings had been recorded. A considerable area of new territory on American Creek would come into the mining limelight in 1930. A great many claims were located at the headwaters of this creek late in the season, following the prosecution of operations on the American Boy Group, where, it is said, excellent results were obtained.

"The Canadian Eastern Railway had surveyed from the present end of steel at Redcliffe to Surprise Creek, thirty-two miles from Stewart. The new survey reduced grades considerably from the line laid out in 1910, and will, in many places, shorten the route by a considerable distance through the Bear River divide than was anticipated at that time."

"The Northern British Columbia Power Company, subsidiary of the Power Company of Canada, is very active in the district. This company has acquired the Dunwell Diesel power plant, which is now supplying power requirements to Stewart and Hyder. It also owns power rights on American Creek, on which considerable work was done last summer, and has at present
two outfits wintering on the Nasoi River, where they are recording power volume from day to day. Recently the company purchased the principal lot in the townsite for the erection of an office building, and also acquired five and one-half acres in the town for the location of their power plant. On January 9 the citizens of Stewart will vote on whether the town is to be incorporated or not.

Kootenay Power Company, whose source of supply for power, it is contended, would be affected by the granting of the franchise.

UNDER THE CLOCK
City Hall Activities in Brief

The season's greetings were extended by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, to the Mayor and council yesterday at their meeting. The communication from the minister was received with thanks and will be suitably acknowledged.

The council authorized the finance committee to negotiate with the board of directors of the Protestant Orphanage with a view to making arrangements for the transfer of the children at present in the Pandora Street Home of the Children's Aid Society to the protestant orphanage.

If this can be arranged to the satisfaction of all parties concerned, the present annual grant to the Children's Aid Society will no longer be necessary.

The British Columbia Airways, Limited, advised the council that there is no intention on the part of the company to remove the han-sars from the Lansdowne Road airport during the present term of the city's proposed lease of the air field.

A recommendation of the special zoning committee that the Zoning By-Law be amended to comply with the request of Mr. T. E. Rigby so that Fernwood Road, both on the east and west side between Gladstone and Pembroke Streets, be zoned as a commercial area, was approved by the council.

The council voted a special grant of $697.70 to the Children's Aid Society to enable it to pay off all outstanding accounts to date.

An invitation to the Mayor and council to attend a luncheon of the Victoria Gyro Club next Monday at 12:10 p.m. in the Empress Hotel, was accepted.

The council placed Mr. Adam Smith, until recently employed as retailer at the city's new employment, on superannuation, owing to disability, as at December 31, 1929.

Messrs. Musgrave, Whyte & Mcfart will be paid $200 on account of work on the special survey of the area between Toronto and Simcoe Streets, fronting on Beacon Hill Park. The council decided when it adopted the recommendation of the finance committee.

The annual Supplementary Expenditure By-Law, which was last year presented to the council, yesterday was reconsidered, adopted and finally passed by that body.

An invitation to be represented at the forty-first congress of the Royal Sanitary Institute, which will take place at the Hotel Empress, from June 21 to June 28, 1930, was ordered received and filed by the council.

The council approved the recommendation of the special zoning committee that the application of Mr. Samuel Wilson, 646 Gorge Road, be granted so that his lot No. 7, with ninety feet frontage, which adjoins the Imperial Service Station on the Gorge Road, may be zoned into that garage district.

Cancellation of four uncompleted agreements for sale was ordered by the council. All moneys paid as deposits thereon will be forfeited to the city and the properties will again be placed on the price list.

The Vancouver City Council sent the council a copy of a resolution it had passed urging the Dominion Government to call a conference of representatives of the Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Governments, at an early date, to consider and deal with the unemployed exists in Canada. The Victoria council, which has been in communication with the Dominion Government, received and filed.

A motion, sponsored by Alderman
J. L. Mara, that all lots on View Street between Douglas and Blanshard Streets, be zoned as a garage district, was defeated by the council.

The Victoria West Brotherhood wrote the council regarding the dangerous condition arising from the congestion of traffic on Front Street, particularly at its junction with Wilson Street, and urged that immediate steps be taken to modify if not completely remedy this situation. The brotherhood recommended that a two-faced warning sign be placed on Front Street near the said junction so that it could easily be seen by traffic travelling north and south, and contended that a reduced speed limit should be rigidly enforced. The council referred the representations to the public works committee for report.

The flying field was crowded at the first of the air race, and great was the astonishment when the resulting plane descended and out of it stepped an unknown amateur. The representatives of the press surged forward to get a closer look.

"Wonderful achievement!" the spokesman shouted. "You've broken all records for a nonstop flight. How did you do it?"

"Well, to tell you the truth," the rank outsider answered, modestly,
"I think I had something to do with it. I didn't find out until about five minutes ago how to stop the thing."

BY-LAW WILL FACE VOTERS IN ESQUIMALT

$60,000 Referendum Will Face Property Owners
When They Go to the Polls on January 18

GORGE VALE LINKS WILL BE DECIDED

When the electorate of Esquimalt goes to the polls on Saturday, January 18, besides casting their votes for councillors, school trustees and police commissioners, they will be facing a $60,000 money by-law. The by-law is to be decided whether or not the Gorge Vale Golf Club will have a five-acre assessment of the above amount for a period of fifteen years.

In order that the by-law pass the electorate, three-fifths of the ballot cast will have to be obtained.
Only property owners in the district may vote on the project. At last night's meeting of the council the by-law passed its first and second readings, and also was adopted in committee without any amendment.

The land where the course will be built was purchased from the Huson's Bay Company and since that time more than $30,000 was spent on for improvements, and the official state nearly $40,000 would be required before the course could be put in good shape. The assessment value of the property which will probably be imposed by the council if the by-law passes, will undoubtedly be increased as the value of the surrounding land increases.

If the referendum passes at the annual election the Gorge Vale Golf Club will become, not only one of the best in the city and the province, but will be one of the first ranked courses in the Pacific Northwest.

FESTIVAL ENDS MIDST APPLAUSE

YULETIDE PROGRAMME COMES TO CLOSE WITH FANTASY AND NATIVITY PLAY

Flattering Reception Given Performers at Empress Last Evening—Folk Dancers Assist

Victoria's second Yuletide Festival, which has appreciably advanced the popularity of this form of entertainment here, came to an end last night with the repeat performances at the Empress ballroom of the Dickensian fantasy, "Snowed In," and Captain Alexander Reaney's Indian Nativity Play. It was with not a little regret that some of the regular patrons of the series, who have occupied their seats unfailingly each night, saw the curtain fall for the last time on the actors who have given such interest to so many parts. Such latter attendance bespoke an interest which happily reflects the efforts of Mr. J. Murray Gibson, publicity director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, under whose personal supervision the series has been produced, and who is to return shortly to begin preparing for the Sea Music Festival, which opens here in January.

MORE ENTHUSIASTIC

The audience last night was definitely more enthusiastic than on any previous evening throughout the week, and with justification, as the advantages of the polishing which comes with experience. This was a very popular feature of the programme, and found all the well-known characters created by "Boz" in even more mellowed and congenial atmosphere, exchanging jokes which gave the Dickens lover a pleasure in his sense of humour and knowledge and intimacy with the intimates assembled round the inn fire. The characters were played with greater assurance, the diction was better, the gestures more natural and easy throughout. The cast was as before: Tony Weller,
H. Eustace Key; landlord, Victor R.
Garver; Samuel Weller, Roy Col-
finch; Pickwick, W. F. Tickle; Jingle, H. Hewetson; Sarah Gamp, Jeddie Heather; Micawber, Stanley
Bullock; Major L. Bullock-
Webster, and Mark Tapley, W. K.
Earle.

"The Miller's Play," the playlet incorporating the traditional mummers of St. George and the Turkish Knight, was again embodied in the Dickensian fantasy, and provoked much applause.

The Indian Nativity play was the last episode of the programme, its Western Canadian forest setting and fabrics contrasting forming a striking contrast to the folksy English and Old World atmosphere of the preceding episode. The dressing of this is remarkably fine and any of the scenes as mere tableaux would make splendidly picturesque material for the "movies," the enormous feather headdresses, the buckskin shirts richly embroidered with beads, porcupine quills and colored wools, the mosses and furs and the realistically exact weapons giving a fine verisimilitude which the graphic scenic settings enhanced.

These last, designed by James Crookart, of Montreal, are admirable supplements to the production, as

The Children's Aid Society held the annual Christmas party at the home, 1234 Pandora Avenue, on Saturday evening.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie, attended by Captain W. Hobart Molson, visited the home at 6 p.m.

MISS STANELAND A PRETTY BRIDE

Many Guests at Wedding at Metropolitan United Church on Saturday

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday evening at the Metropolitan United Church when Honora Therese Staneland, niece of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Staneland, became the bride of Dr. William Darby Higgs, of Calgary, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Higgs, of Albert Head, Rev. W. J. Sipprell, D.D., officiated.

The decorations were particularly beautiful, and during the ceremony the bride party stood beneath a canopy of variegated holly, intertwined with silver and illuminated with electric lights, from which hung a bell and a garland of white chrysanthemums. The bride wore a gown of Ophelia roses and maidenhair fern.

Miss Mona Graham, of New Westminster, was bridesmaid, and wore a gown of pale pink georgette with sleeveless bodice, the skirt edged with a ruffle of pale pink tulle. Her dress-fitting hat was of pastel pink velvet and she carried a bouquet of deep and pale pink carnations. Little Miss Barbara Campbell, in orchid georgette, and carrying a bouquet of flowers, was a charming flower girl.

Mr. Bert Higgs was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Phil Willis and Walter Fletcher. During the signing of the register Miss Mary Higgs, sister of the bridegroom, sang "At Dawning."

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Staneland, the rooms being prettily arranged with Yuletide decorations by Mrs. S. J. Willis and Mrs. Higgs. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Staneland, in a gown of Gobelun blue lace-trimmed with silver, and a hat of black and white. Mrs. Higgs, in a black lace ensemble and gold hat, and by Mrs. Higgs, mother of the groom, in black georgette and a black hat to match.

Supper was served by candlelight in the dining-room, the table being centred with a three-tier cake and arranged with lovely Ophelia roses and pink candles in silver candelabra.

The bride and groom left later for Calgary, where they will make their home, the bride travelling in a gown of purple crepe with hat to match and a muskrat coat.

When silk and rayon are used in combination, sometimes the silk yarns are dyed separately, occasionally weighted. But this does not apply to crepe which is piece dyed, or dyed after the fabric is woven.

Flat crepes, then, of pure silk or of rayon are not weighted and may be tubbed, provided this work is done with care. Very lukewarm suds should be used, the garment well rinsed in clear water of the same temperature, and the water pressed gently but vertically with the hands. Squeezing silk or rayon produces wrinkles it is difficult to remove in ironing. The garment may be laid out flat in a smooth surface cloth like a sheet to take up the extra moisture, then placed flat and free from wrinkles on a dry cloth until it is almost dry, when it may be ironed on the wrong side with a warm iron, never a hot one. A dress may be hung during the drying period, but this is said to be less satisfactory.

Necessarily the dress to be washed must be of simple designing, for many fine pleats and other complicated details prove to be a difficulty unless one has infinite patience.

The thrifty woman desirous of obtaining a smart frock she may wash at home or send to an expert laundry, must first assure herself by a guarantee from the shop at which it is purchased that the fabric is washable.

Premier Dawson recalled the inception of the Tuxis movement in Ontario when a group of men organized the boys along lines which would develop them devotionally, socially, physically and intellectually. It was originally called the Canadian Student Efficiency Training, but the name was later changed to Tuxis," he explained, "builds up these four angles of a boy's life and makes him a four-square citizen."

The speaker said that the Parliament was the focus of all Tuxis work in the province. British Columbia had forty-five representatives who came to talk over Tuxis needs and Tuxis aims.

"Probably the major part of the Tuxis work is world brotherhood. The plan of boosting world brotherhood at home has been adopted, for it was felt that if one could not accept persons of all breeds and races at home, there would never be any hope for the federation of man and world peace and amity," Premier Dawson stated.

Mr. Frank Fidler, provincial secretary of the boys' work board, spoke briefly and complimented the Parliament upon having such an able leader as Irvine Dawson. Rev. E. R. McLean, general secretary of the religious educational council of British Columbia, also addressed the meeting.

The aims and objects of the Older Boys' Parliament and of the Tuxis movement which it represents were outlined by Irvine Dawson, of Saanich, Premier of the Boys' Parliament of 1929, in an address before the Victoria Gyro Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel. Members of the Parliament were guests of the Gyro organization at the luncheon gathering.

Boys and Girls Attend Enjoyable Banquet

The Sunday schoolroom of the Metropolitan Church was the centre of a most enjoyable banquet on Saturday evening, when the Victoria Canadian Girls in Training Council entertained the members of the Tuxis Older Boys' Parliament, this being the first time in Canada that the members of a Boys' Parliament have met with the girls for a session. At 6 o'clock about 150 boys and girls sat down to supper, which was served by girls representing the Junior G.O.I.T. groups in the city. Supper was followed by a jolly sing-song, led by Miss Beall, sponsor of the Girls' Council. An address of welcome was given by the president, Margaret Maguire, who introduced the Premier of the Boys' Parliament, Mr. Irvine Dawson, and members of the Cabinet, also Mr. E. R. McLean, secretary of the Religious Educational Council of British Columbia; Mr. F. Fiddler, Provincial Boys' Work secretary; Dr. Sippell, Miss G. McWell, sponsor of New Westminster Council; Margaret Smythe, president New Westminster Girls' Council; Margaret McDuffy, president Vancouver Girls' Council; Mr. Tucker, Mr. Randle, and a number of others prominent in girls' and boys' work in the province.

The conference then divided into five discussion groups. This was followed by the dramatization of the song, "Great Heart," which was specially written and dedicated to the Tuxis boys. The happy and most successful evening was closed by a very impressive candle-lighting ceremony.

Weddings

COTSFORD-LAMONT

St. Stephen's Church, Mount Newton, Saanichton, was the scene of a quiet and pretty wedding on December 28 at 2:30 o'clock, when Rev. J. S. A. Bastin united in marriage Ida Muriel, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. Lamont, Duncan, and Mr. William John Cotsford, son of Captain and Mrs. Cotsford, 1028 Mason Street, Victoria.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. G. Robinson, of Duncan. The groom was supported by Mr. G. Penzance. The happy couple left on the afternoon boat for Seattle, where the honeymoon will be spent.

STAFFORD-SMITH

Charming in every detail was the wedding solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Friday at 8:30 p.m., Rev. Dr. W. J. Sippell officiating, when Dorothea May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Smith, Bank Street, became the bride of Mr. Harold D. Stafford, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stafford, of Headquarters, B.C.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the room to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Dorothy Morton. Her gown was of white georgette, fashioned in bouffant style with long sleeves and silver edged ruffles to the hem, which she wore an embroidered veil of net in cap style with wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Opheelia roses and white carnations.

Miss Norine Smith, sister of the bride, and her only attendant, looked lovely in a dress of Nile green satin with long bodice and skirt with uneven hemline. She carried an arm bouquet of pale yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Fred Hill, of Woodlure, B.C., supported the groom.

The ceremony was performed under a canopy of pale yellow, and before banks of fern, palms and chrysanthemums. The bride's train was decorated with chrysanthemums and tall tapers, in silver sconces, was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, in a gown of midnight blue lace over satin, received the guests, and was assisted by Mrs. Stafford, mother of the groom, who wore a handsome dress of ivory georgette. During the signing of the register the bride's sister, Miss Reita Smith, rendered a violin solo. The bride looked very smart in her travelling ensemble of brown French broadcloth, with trimmings of Siberian rat, and wore a small hat with stichings of gold.

The honeymoon will be spent in Vancouver. They will make their home in Kimberly, B.C., where Mr. Stafford has recently been appointed principal of the public school. Those assisting the bride at the reception were Misses Stella Macdonald, Marion Hargreaves, Maurine Mainprize, Betty Sledge and Reita Smith. ## Are YOU Getting YOUR MONEY'S WORTH In Entertainment?

The American people pay more generously for entertainment than any nation on earth. Their generosity has enriched the motion picture industry.

Spoken dialog has come to replace the subtitle of the silent picture. Tagging along with the talkie comes Mechanical Music—an economy.

Real Music is being ordered out of many theatres in favor of this new comer, who never dared a theatrical appearance until he gained the protection of the Talking Picture's novelty and the magic word "Synchronized." Now synchronization with a picture does not give Mechanical Music the quality of Real Music.

Banishment of Living Music represents a loss for the theatre patron. Is this loss balanced by the substitution of Mechanical Music?

A very great many theatre-goers will answer "NO!"

Then why should the aforementioned American people, who pay so generously for entertainment, be required to take less for their money than they were wont to get?

CHAPTER XI

Clive Merton seemed to throw off his gloom at the day dawned on, and did his best not only to comfort Mary Glennie, but to encourage the other members of the party to hope that the crash would not be as bad as was anticipated.

"I suppose we're all tied here until the inquest is over," he said at lunch. "But afterwards we shall be free, and some of us may be able to get details of these matters. After all, there is the factory half built, there is this process for which Demetrius vouches. The fact that Cupola threw away our money in luxurious living does not prove that a great deal of money is necessary to exploit the discovery."

"He said it was," grumbled Corbett.

"And we believed him at the time," admitted Mary. "But now we know he raised the money for himself, not the process."

Lord Cramish nodded. "There is some sense in that. If you care to join me later, Merton, I shall interview Demetrius and see if the process could not be developed economically. I have known of cases where a company was broken by reckless expenditure, but having something of value to exploit, was afterwards put on its feet at no great expense. I presume we should all like to get some of our money back."

"I don't care a hang how, as long as we do," cried Corbett.

"A good idea," said Andrews. "As a solicitor I might join you and take care of the legal side, eh?"

They talked more hopefully then, and after dinner Mary Glennie asked Clive if he would come out into the garden with her, as she had something to say to him.

Clive went willingly. He thought she had been very brave.

"You make me quite hopeful," she murmured, when they were walking along a path with bright herbaceous borders. "I mean about the company. I know so little of such things, but I see what you mean. Is Mr. Demetrius really such a clever scientist?"

"He has the highest degrees, Miss Glennie; I do know that."

"Then we may have something to go on," she said. "I hope so, if only for poor father's sake. Only there's one thing—"

She broke off and he looked at her curiously.

"May I hear what it is?"

"She nodded, hesitated, and spoke. "The money. You see, even if I do not know much about business, I feel that the company can't start again unless there is some fresh money put into it."

He bit his lip. "I am afraid that is so."

"And we—well, we have very little more."

"Humph. But you realize that no attempt will be made to reconstruct the thing unless we are sure that it will pay. We shall be more careful next time."

"I see."

He walked warily. "And if it is sure to pay, then you will get the other money back, or most of it."

He was telling himself he would have to put down his schooner-yacht in any case. He would save on the professional skipper and crew. A ten-ton cutter would be just as good fun, and he could manage that all right.

Mary Glennie sighed. "I suppose so. But don't you see it would not afford to put any in now."

"Of course not," he said; "but that is my point. I would willingly have offered what help I could before, but felt that it would have been—shall we say, tactless. There is another matter. If there is something after all in Demetrius' process, Lord Cramish and I will make very sure of our ground before we take an interest. If all goes well, however, I am sure your father would not object to my advancing you some capital for the reconstruction—since he would be aware that I would claim it again when the company was on its feet."

"I should have to ask him," she said gratefully. "Of course that is not the same thing. I do see that."

Clive Merton knew all he would like to do for her. It would be something if, on this excuse, he could help her to carry on for a while.

"I am glad you do."

There was a short silence, then Mary spoke softly. "Don't you think Mr. Cobham is a clever man? How quick he was in finding out about those footprints. Ever since lunch Mr. Smith and Mr. Corbett have been ever so much more cheerful."

"Corbett never seemed much put out," he replied. "Mr. Smith, of course, felt in a beastly hole since he visited the library during the night. Corbett is about the gloomiest fellow here."

Mary nodded. "I am sure it was someone from outside. There must be other people who disliked Cupola. I don't suppose this was the first time he tried to swindle people."

"He certainly didn't lack practice," said Clive dryly.

"And yet there was that dagger," she said. "I can't explain it away?"

"Who can?" said he hastily; "but

OPEN MEETING WILL BE HELD IN ESQUIMALT

Reeve James Erick Announces That Public Gathering Will Be Held in Municipal Hall on Jan. 16

RADIO NIGHT IS CONSIDERED

Reeve James Erick, who is seeking re-election in the municipality of Esquimalt, will hold a public meeting in the Municipal Hall on January 16, two days before the election goes to the polls in the district, according to the statement made last night.

The gathering, which will be open to the public, will take place at 8 o'clock, and all existing councillors will be asked to give an account of their stewardship during the past twelve months, and candidates seeking election will be permitted to take the platform.

If enough candidates can be secured to speak, it is the intention of Reeve Erick to hold a "radio night" in Esquimalt similar to that held in the city of Victoria previous to the election. Up to the present only two councillors have indicated they have signed their intentions of speaking over station CFCT, and if at least two more seeking re-election will appear before the "microphone," the plan will go through. Each person will be allotted five minutes.

It was decided that the Municipal Hall and a store at the corner of Arm Street and Craigflower Road would be used as polling booths at the forthcoming election. Mr. J. R. Collier will again act as returning officer.

Previous to the adjournment of the meeting Reeve James Erick congratulated the members of the council and various committees which had co-operated with him during the year and in closing wished everyone, including the members of the press, a happy and prosperous New Year. In turn each councillor responded and hoped that these wishes would work out during the coming year as smoothly as they had during the past twelve months.

After having been closed for several months during Mrs. Uthoff's absence on a sketching trip on the mainland, the Victoria School of Art will reopen on January 4 at 405 Union Building, View Street.

The general course in drawing, painting, design and commercial art will be given as before, also short courses in interior decoration, fashion drawing and applied art. Special times will be reserved for life classes and the school for girls will be held on Saturday mornings, also one afternoon weekly after school hours.

A special feature is made of snapshot drawing, to train the observer's eye and memory for illustration, cartooning, animal drawing and the type of "live" line work that is most in demand for magazine and newspaper cuts.

The importance of poster design and lettering in advertising is well known and particular attention is paid to this branch of commercial art.

ATHLETIC TESTS ARE REVIEWED

BOYS PARLIAMENT HEARS SUGGESTION FOR CHANGES IN STANDARD TESTS

Formation of Some Permanent Organization for Former Tax Boys

In the Boys' Parliament yesterday afternoon the government appeared to have a very pronounced grasp of the situation, with little fear that anything like a cataclysm might be expected which would defeat the government's plan.

From L. Scott McLean, Government critic, came a proposition looking to the making of representations regarding the athletic side of the work. It was proposed to ask the National Athletic Councils Committee to arrange for a series of tests, the list of tests which are the basis of the Premier.

The Premier at once met this idea with a suggestion that there was little hope of succeeding in making the alterations thought of. He went on to say that the six test sports which had been adopted by that body had been arrived at only after the most careful consideration. Each one of them was selected because of the particular training made possible by the resolution of the critic was, accordingly, overwhelmingly defeated.

Later in the day the Minister of Physical Affairs, Fraser McLean, of Fairmont-Kitsilano, lauded the good results from the tests conducted in the province, in connection with the Olympic games. There had, he said, been over 400 boys taking part in the tests in different parts of the province, and there had been two shields won, which was something to be proud of. He said that the tests had been a success and that the results were other prizes gained.

The Pioneer Programme Extension bill, which contained a provision for enlisting boys in this work, had been passed by the legislature. A resolution would be held to be a responsibility upon the members of the Parliament. This section was incorporated in the bill.

A resolution was passed unanimously granting permission to the National Boys' Work Board to utilize the pin of the British Columbia Parliament as a model for its work. This action was taken following the request made from the National Premier's Conference held in Jasper.

The Parliament bill was amended so as to allow representation from the Y.M.C.A. such representative to be appointed by that body and to allow four Sunday school representatives to be appointed by the Senate.

Another resolution endorsed was that in favor of fostering the former boys' gathering of former Tuxis boys, some of whom had been sent to the University of British Columbia or Victoria College, and win this in view it was resolved that the Y.M.C.A. should now attempt the institutions to do what they could in this matter.

A resolution favored the establishment of camps in each of the constituencies and setting out a scheme for them under the heading of Leadership Training Camps, Tuxis Camps, and Trail Ranger Camps.

LEATHERS FOR GLOVES

Glove leathers have acquired certain trade names not always understood by the average consumer. This is largely governed by the process to which the leather is subjected. As explained recently to an inquirer, the popular "capeskin" and "lambskin" was a fine leather, but it was not as far as the original hide was concerned. Capeskin is usually a somewhat heavy, close-grained leather which has undergone a certain process of tanning and is dyed entirely from the hide. Lambskin is not so heavy and the color is brushed on the surface only, leaving the flesh or finer side of the leather in its natural coloring.

"Mocha" is usually the name given to the hide of a special grade of Arabian sheep. The grain is removed from the side and the outer side of the leather given a velvet finish. Many other leathers are given this suede or velvet finish, but as a rule this process is applied to the inner side of the leather.

Buckskin, elkskin, antelope, deer and pigskin each has its special mode of tanning and coloring, so that the purchaser would do well to inquire as to the washable quality of the glove being bought. Many gloves not only carry a guarantee of washability but include explicit directions for this work.

ALD. MARCHANT RECALLS WORK IN COMMUNITY

Briefly Reviews Some Achievements During Municipal Life, and Thanks Colleagues

ALDERMAN HARVEY ALSO RETIRES

Alderman William Marchant and John Harvey, long two members of the present City Council who retired this year, attended their last Council meeting yesterday at the City Hall and made a review of their community work.

Marchant said he was completing a long association with the city government. He had served as a school trustee for five years, was mayor for one term, had been alderman for seven years and had served for two years on the library board and library committee.

"During the last election there was a call for new men, and new men were elected. I genuinely regret leaving the city's service, but I accept these things as rebuffs in life," he said.

The speaker recalled that when he entered upon his duties as mayor in 1922 he gave attention to the congestion of offices in the city treasury department. At that time the offices of the comptroller, assessor, wiring inspector, purchasing agent and telephone department were housed in the same quarters. This condition was changed, with the comptroller, assessor and purchasing agent being given separate offices, the telephone department was moved and the wiring inspector was given quarters in the engineering office.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

Alderman Marchant spoke of improvements which he had suggested being made in the council chamber, which at one time was both dirty and dingy. He was the one who had initiated the gallery of pictures of former mayors and councils which adorn the walls of the council chamber today.

During his regime of mayor, the consolidation of the city by-laws was commenced. He wished the council had approved his scheme for the consolidation of a record of the activities of the council and a history of the operations of the city departments. He was the originator of the Civil Service By-law, which he described as "the sheet anchor of freedom for the council and the charter of fair play for officials."

In his official capacity he had visited all departments and fully familiarized himself with all details of civic administration.

The speaker said that the "pay as you go" policy was not the only policy, but it was the outcome of conditions which required such action at the time it was inaugurated.

"My last word is not 'Good-bye,' but 'Au revoir,' not the end of a volume, but the end of a chapter, not the close of a civic career, but an incident in it. I have been defeated, but I am not dismayed. I shall take a keen interest in civic affairs. I have enjoyed the friendship of my colleagues. I have enjoyed the debates and business of the City Council and other civic bodies. I trust that I will always regard you all as sincere friends," concluded Alderman Marchant.

ALDERMAN HARVEY

Alderman John Harvey said that he regretted that he was retiring from the council, but hoped to be in the field for Alderman next year, an incident in his civic career.

He recalled many pleasant associations with various mayors and councils, and appreciated the co-operation and harmonious relations which had prevailed.

"I don't look upon this speech as a valedictory or a farewell. I have always tried to do all that I was asked, and have served as faithfully as I could," he declared.

The speaker said that while in retirement from active civic duty, he would nevertheless follow the administration of the city's government with rapid attention, and would continue to study the progress of civic affairs.

"I thank you all for the many courtesies you have shown, and I might be back with some of you again on the council board," Alderman Harvey concluded.

Alderman H. O. Litchfield was loud in his praise of the activity of Alderman Marchant in connection with the creation of legislative power to enable the city to confer upon a worthy citizen the freedom of the city. "I think that it was one of the happiest days in Alderman Marchant's life when this power was granted the only city in Canada which can create a freeman. I say this because it is to Alderman Marchant's credit."

Alderman John A. Worthington joined Alderman Litchfield in lauding the lengthy and faithful service which both Alderman Marchant and Alderman Harvey have rendered to the city.

PRESIDENT GRANT IN FROM ORIENT

American Mail Liner Is Third Ship Here After Sea Christmas

Third Christmas-at-sea vessel to dock here, the American Mail liner, President Grant, arrived from the Orient in command of Captain M. M. Jensen, at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and left for Seattle at 10:30, after discharging 300 tons of cargo and disembarking nineteen passengers.

Aboard the liner were thirty-one first cabin passengers, 124 steerage, 3,200 tons of cargo, 2,100 bags of mail and 2,200 bales of raw silk. Passengers included Mr. Eugene Lucks-Osten, of Orange, N.J., returning from a fur-buying trip to Russia, cut short by fighting in Manchuria; Miss Dorothy Campbell, of the Presbyterian Mission, Swatow, en route to Rochester, Minn.; Hon. Manuel Roxas, speaker of the Philippine Senate, accompanied by Hon. Pedro Gil, Mr. Marcelino Lichauco, Mr. Jose Fernandez, Mr. Jose Lopez de Castillo and Dr. Silverio Garcia, en route to Washington to take up the question of Southern Africa is one of the most highly mineralized areas in the world.

Rhodes realized this, as well as the fact that mining must be the backbone of settlement and civilization in that vast region. Without the development of the mines, civilization in Southern Africa would languish and possibly disappear in this case as it did some 2,000 years ago, as evidenced by the ancient mines and ruined forts that dot the mining districts.

General Smuts emphasized particularly the fact that while occupancy and leadership in industry and agriculture is essential to the welfare of the natives, the missionaries and medical men can do little for them until the elements of civilization are introduced by the white cultivator, miner and manufacturer. In this advance, said General Smuts, mining must take the lead. Mining not only attracts people by itself, it stimulates every other industry, and farming most of all.

"The British Government," General Smuts concluded, "is in control of a vast portion of the African continent, and especially of that part which appears eminently suitable for European colonization. It is a trustee for civilization; it must see that the best use is made of this huge undeveloped estate. These fragments of Crown colonies should be put in the way of becoming in another important part of self-governing unit of the Empire. There are here the makings of something very wonderful indeed, and of far-reaching importance for Africa, for the Empire, and for the world."

Desperate Fight Between Two Men On Board Vessel

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 30.—A desperate fight aboard the oil tanker, the Royal Arrow, was described in police court here today when George Ronald McLaughlin, American steward on the ship, was arraigned on charges of stabbing Joseph Coyne, first assistant engineer, who is also an American.

Other officers of the vessel said they had great difficulty in separating the men. Coyne was so badly wounded that wireless messages were sent for police and a municipal ambulance to meet the ship when it docked. An operation lasting two hours was performed on Coyne in a hospital here. McLaughlin was remanded for trial. He has appealed to the American Consul for assistance.

Buddy Hunter, an eight-year-old, came home the other day from a visit to his grandmother. "Mother," he inquired, "do you know why they call them 'grandmothers'?"

Mother proceeded to explain the relationship, but she only got about half way through when Buddy interrupted with: "Now, that's no reason. It's because they are grander to little boys than mothers are."

The famous Stage Stars...

like 9 out of 10 Screen Stars...

Keep their skin lovely with Lux Toilet Soap

These lovely women of the theatre are just a few of the many, many famous actresses who—like 9 out of 10 screen stars—are using Lux Toilet Soap to keep their skin at its best.

And now many of Broadway's most delightful actresses are spending part of their time in the film studios, making sound pictures. So they are more than ever grateful to Lux Toilet Soap for keeping their skin fresh and smooth. For nowhere is lovely skin more important than under the great glaring lights used for the close-up.

Because the actresses are so enthusiastic about this white, fragrant soap, leading theatres over the country have placed it in their dressing rooms.

In New York alone you will find it being used in 71 of the 79 legitimate theatres, and in Hollywood all the great film studios have made it the official soap for dressing rooms.

Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto Soapmakers by appointment to their Excellencies the Governor General and Vicecountess Willingdon.

For nearly an hour the talkative man had bored his fellow-passengers in the railway carriage with accounts of his dog Towzer.

"Mr.," said the old gentleman who had been vainly trying to snatch Towzer into a shop and bought him a muzzle and then asked the shop assistant to put it on for you, and he refused, what would you do?"

"Why," said the talkative one, "I put it on myself."

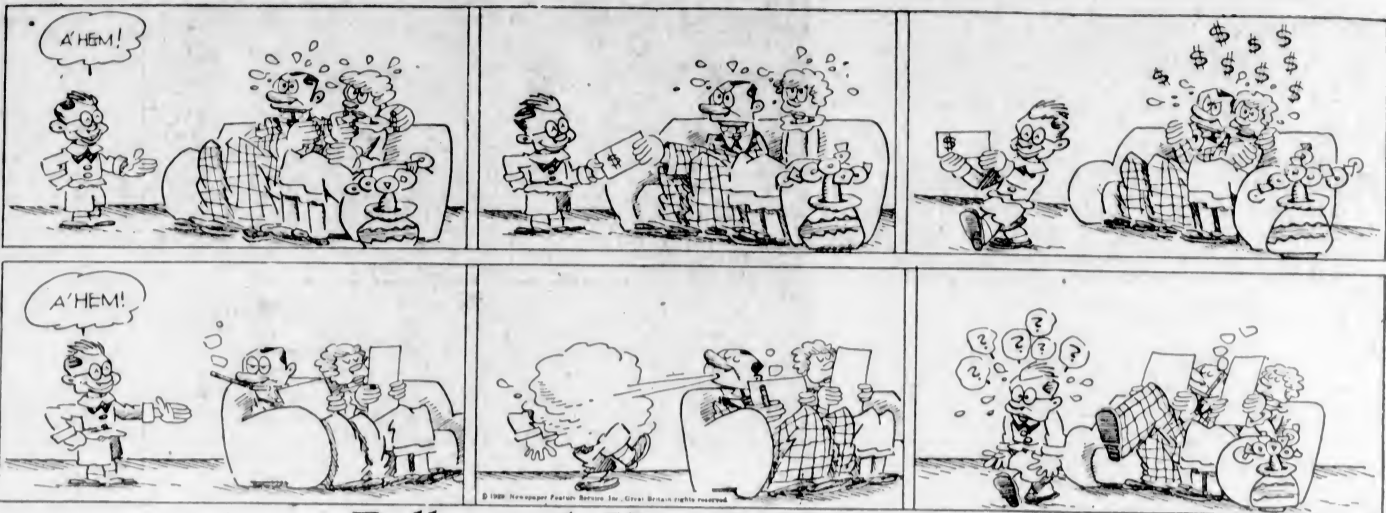

"Quite so," was the reply. "And I think all here will agree with me that the result would be excellent."

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

MINISTER SUPPORTS CITY SCHOOL BOARD

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe Congratulates Trustees on Attitude Regarding High School Course

A letter from Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, endorsing the attitude of the City School Board with reference to the adoption of a three-year high school course, was read at yesterday's meeting of the trustees.

"I want," wrote Canon Hinchliffe, "to congratulate your board on its decision to organize and conduct the work at the high school so that as many pupils as possible can complete the programme of studies within three years."

"I also wish to assure your board that the department is quite ready to give them all possible assistance and encouragement in the carrying out of their plan, and that it will not forget, in any development or revision of the high school curriculum, the needs of the average pupil who might wish to complete the course in three years."

The Psalmist (prophesying): "Darling, I love you. Will you be my decision to organize and conduct the work at the high school so that as many pupils as possible can complete the programme of studies within three years."

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Patience Is Rewarded

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Be patient; it will surely pay:
If not just now, some other day.
—Hooty the Owl.

It was just as dusk was settling over the Old Pasture that Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy stood for a moment on their doorstep and then started off at a swift trot along a cowpath. Hooty the Owl saw them start and chuckled. He knew by the very way in which they were trotting off that they were going a long way. It was what he had been waiting for. "I knew," said he to himself, "that all I needed was to have patience. Now we shall see what we shall see. I mustn't lose sight of those two Foxes."

So Hooty followed along, flying back and forth and circling this way and that on those great wings of his. He pretended to be hunting, but all the time he was keeping Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy in sight. How surprised Hooty would have been could he have overheard Reddy and Mrs. Reddy as they trotted along.

"Is Hooty following us now?" asked Mrs. Reddy. "I cannot seem to locate him and I do not want to appear to be looking too much."

"Oh, yes, he's following us," replied Reddy. "Only a moment ago I caught a glimpse of a moving shadow just a little back of us. I don't have to look any more just now. A moving shadow means just one thing, and that is Hooty the Owl. He's spying on us ever since I told him about that turkey dinner. He thinks we're after another turkey. That is exactly what I want him to think."

"But, my dear, I don't quite see what your plan is yet," said Mrs. Reddy.

Reddy chuckled. "You will, my dear," said he. "You wait in all good time. I think myself it is a very clever plan and I think you will think the same thing."

So Reddy and Mrs. Reddy trotted along without hurrying and all the time Reddy took care to keep more or less in the open, where Hooty would be sure to see them. He didn't want Hooty to lose sight of them. To have this happen would have spoiled his clever plan. It was a long way out to the farm where the turkeys lived. Hooty began to understand why it was that he had never found those turkeys. He

So Hooty followed along, flying back and forth wasn't in the habit of flying so far from his home in the Green Forest. His hunting field had never extended as far as this.

At last Reddy and Mrs. Reddy stopped. They were still some little distance from the farm where the turkeys lived. "What are we stopping here for?" asked Mrs. Reddy.

"We don't want to get over there too soon," replied Reddy. "We don't want to get over there until the farmer has gone to bed. We don't want to get there until everything is all dark."

"I don't see what harm it would do to be where we can watch those turkeys," said Mrs. Reddy.

Reddy chuckled softly. "My dear," said he, "don't you understand what I am trying to do? Hooty the Owl is going to catch one of those turkeys for us. He doesn't know it, but that is what he is going to do. I don't want him to discover those turkeys until just the right time. If he should discover them too soon it might spoil all our plans. I want to wait until there is no danger that we shall be interfered with."

"Where do you suppose Hooty is now?" asked Mrs. Reddy.

"I don't know, but he is where he can watch us, you may be sure," replied Reddy.

He had been told "The English Queen beheaded my Stuart," and thought it was a recent happening. Queen Victoria told everybody of his reply with great amusement.

WHAT BECOMES OF THEM

The head of the firm had caught the office boy telling untruths. "Boy!" he thundered, "do you know what they do with boys who don't tell the truth?" "Yes, sir," was the reply. "When they are old enough the firm sends them out as travelers."

Carlton Jail, for more than a century a landmark of Edinburgh, Scotland, is to be torn down.
